About the Victorian Technology Voucher Program

The Technology Voucher Program has been developed by the Victorian Government to drive the use of cutting edge technologies and to support Victorian companies to compete locally and globally. It helps companies to adopt and develop new technologies by providing a voucher that can be exchanged for access to facilities, goods, services, advice or expertise provided by other companies or publicly funded research organisations.

It provides responsive and nimble funding for businesses wanting to explore the use of technology to create more competitive products and processes.
