MEMKO expands Airline Fleet Technical Management (FTM) Services

Melbourne, Australia, May 19, 2014 — MEMKO Pty Ltd, an Australian based service and solution provider for Aviation and Aerospace Engineering Services, Software and Training has completed the acquisition of the FTM Business unit from John Holland Aviation Services (JHAS).

The acquisition includes IP, Computer Systems, Technical Records and transition of key staff currently supporting two international airline customers.

FTM is an essential and critical part in ensuring continuing airworthiness of aircraft and includes the following activities:

- Aircraft Specification and Configuration Management
- Reliability Management and Reporting
- Technical Publications Administration
- Record Keeping
- Aircraft Design Support
- Maintenance Planning Development, Implementation and Scheduling

Additional to its existing FTM capability and capacity, MEMKO, through the FTM business unit acquisition from JHAS, will be in a strong position to offer comprehensive FTM services to its current airline customers as well as new customers operating in Australia, Asia Pacific and Middle East.

The MEMKO FTM team consist of industry leading professionals across multi disciplines utilising TRAX, the most comprehensive MRO Fleet Management Software.

Miro Miletic, Managing Director of MEMKO Pty Ltd, states, "We are very excited to expand our FTM Services and welcome our new Team Members and Customers. At MEMKO, we pride ourselves in customer and technical excellence and look forward to delivering on our commitments and growing our business."
